

Technology Teardown at Renishaw

Renishaw plc has been holding Technology Teardowns for over 10 years.

This involves taking apart a range of consumer and industrial electromechanical devices; e.g. cameras, phones, laptops and hard-drives. The aim is to understand the technologies and techniques used so we can design better products!

The Technology Teardown was primarily aimed at students and graduates. However everyone at Renishaw, from the Chairman down, has found the Technology Teardown very interesting and has learnt from it.

Renishaw are offering this learning event to schools to help encourage a new generation of engineers and scientists.

If your school is interested in attending one of these events please contact:
