

"WHAT GOES ROUND, COMES ROUND"

Respect, a quality so hard to find,
Shines bright even to those who are blind.

What may have seemed to you as a harmless joke,
May seem to another as ruthless choke.

Their self-respect now bruised,
As you walk away unfazed and amused.

They go home and wonder what they did to deserve this,
Their confidence and self-esteem traipsing into an abyss.

Question yourself why you think you can put others down,
Why did you do it, you didn't get a crown.

Don't bully others just because you are insecure
Is this what you want in life, are you sure?

Don't bully others, it's not nice
It will always come at a price

Don't shatter their heart on the ground
Because surely what goes around comes around.
